

LA VERA – REGIONAL MEETINGS REPORT – RM1

Territorios Pastoreados 3 / Grazed lands 3: a place for sharing around pastoralism and extensive livestock farming

Introduction

Territorios Pastoreados is (since its first edition held on 26th and 27th November, 2015 at the headquarters of the Ministry of Agriculture), a shared space for meeting, reflection and debate on the situation of the extensive livestock farming and pastoralism in Spain. This first edition gathered up to 100 people from different sectors and was a great success. The second edition, Territorios Pastoreados 2, took place in Saragossa, with the collaboration of Interovic reaching even higher figures of participation.

Entretantos Foundation, in close collaboration with other supporting entities (propia Plataforma por la Ganadería Extensiva y el Pastoralismo, Interovic, la asociación Trashumancia y Naturaleza y el European Forum on Nature Conservation and Pastoralism \(EFNCP\)) has continued working on this line of action, running the organization of a new edition of Territorios Pastoreados, this time in Plasencia, in the spring of 2018.

Territorios Pastoreados 3 was designed to incorporate the main HNV-Link Regional Meeting, and benefitted from the participation of the project coordinators (CIHEAM-IAMM) representatives (managers and farmers) from the Portuguese Learning Area. In total there were 104 participants from 42 organisations, with 22 speakers.

The event took place on 18 and 19 April 2018 in Plasencia (Cáceres), on the Campus of the University of Extremadura and depicted a global view of the hottest topics and the most interesting experiences of grazing and extensive livestock in Spain. As the event incorporated the HNV-Link Regional Meeting, there was a special focus on examples of innovative approaches to solving some of the key challenge facing pastoralism in the country. The conference shared the testimonies of its protagonists, focused on the participation of farmers and pastoralists. The event also involved the professional sheep and goat association INTEROVIC.

The organisation of the workshop followed the classical format of "Territorios Pastoreados", consisting of very short presentations (10-15 minutes) to tell the essence of the experiences presented. These experiences were grouped into boards of 2-3 interventions, which allowed a debate of about 30 minutes with broad participation of the attending public.

The workshops were organized focusing, fundamentally, on the exchange of knowledge and experiences between the extensive livestock sector itself and representatives of both the government and the research community. Among participants, there were representatives from Central and Regional Government, Universities and research centres, all of them linked by the interest on HNV systems, extensive livestock farming or silvopastoral systems.

Aims of the action

1. Address the state of the art of extensive livestock farming in Spain and its contribution to HNV.
2. Promote the sustainability of extensive livestock farms through participatory research/action models and enhanced governance
3. Develop collaboration and participatory schemes with organizations and institutions that share the former aims and support HNVS and pastoralism
4. Promote improvements in the sustainability and environmental behaviour of High Value Natural Agrarian Systems (HNV), as a way to favour their implementation and protection in the different political and social spaces of agrarian nature in our country.

Development of the workshop

The conference shared the testimonies of its protagonists, focused this year on innovation and the participation of farmers and pastoralists. Among the issues and innovations covered were:

- HNV-Link project, presented at European, LA and local case-study levels
- Co-existence between pastoralists and large carnivores
- Animal health and TB elimination campaign in La Vera: adapting to realities of the pastoral system
- Women pastoralists network and experiences
- Artisan processing and marketing, including innovation to address regulatory issues
- Pastoralism as a fire-prevention tool, linked to marketing of pastoral products

The methodology was participatory, and based on exchange of knowledge and experiences between the extensive livestock sector itself and representatives of both the government and the academy. Among all participants, there were representatives from Central and Regional Government, Universities and research centres, all of them linked by the interest on HNV systems, extensive livestock farming or silvopastoral systems. Farmers were the most important group of assistants, including a solid group of pastoralist women.
